EMS Diagnosis

EMS (Electronic Meridian System) is a Sub-Health Measurement System designed to scan the whole body in few minutes. Proven Medical Science & State of the art technology come together in his unique Meridian Assessment tool. It is a safe, painless, acupuncture tool to measure the electrical energy of the body's organ systems without any side effects. It helps in identity the optimal nutritional protocol for healing and energy management. The meridian scan determines the energy levels of each and every organ/system in the body followed by the process of restoring balance to those systems/organs through an assessment report that includes detailed recommendations for an optimal supplementation regimen customized to your specific needs.

Functions of EMS

- ☒ Accurate as high as 94%
- ☒ Assist in identifying the root cause of diseases and potential illness.
- ☒ Works without harming human body on acupressure points
- ☒ Promote preventive health care management
- ☒ Works without any side effects, no pain, no needles and no blood.
- ☒ Determines the energetic level of each and every organ and system in the body and how well it is functioning
- ☒ Shows Vitamin, Enzyme and Mineral Imbalances
- ☒ Identifies chemicals, pesticides, herbicides and other toxic materials in our system

How it Works

Acupressure points of a hand is connected to a personal computer through an Electronic Meridian Censor, which measures and process the Microbial Wave Data released to central EMS processing server where according to Scientific formula the server process and forwards patients Sub-health Report.

EMT (Elimination of Major Toxins)

Detoxification is a natural process carried out by our body to eliminate the toxins accumulated in the body cells through various organs such as colon, liver, kidney and skin.

What are Toxins?

It is the unwanted substances found in food, air and water which we consume. That is whenever an inorganic substance gets into our body that causes harm, it can be considered a toxin. By "Inorganic" it means it is "Alien" to our body and that our body cannot assimilate or use it, but instead it harms. These Toxins are continuously accumulating in our body and later our body has to take heavy efforts to purge these toxins. But we keep on dumping our body continuously with unwanted Toxins at a larger scale which affects the Human Health.

Our Susceptibility to Toxins : There are many factors that can affect the susceptibility of our body's response to toxins. We can control some of these factors, but some are beyond our control.

~Age: Young children and the elderly are more susceptible than healthy adults are. ~Health status : People with low immune defences and with liver problem are particularly affected by toxins. ~Gender: Women tend to respond more sensitively to toxins compared to men. Women have higher levels of hormones that are particularly sensitive to certain toxins. ~Genetic make-up: Due to our genetic make-up, some people may have less detox enzymes, causing them to be more susceptible. ~Enzymatic defects: Although rare, people with enzymatic defects may suffer more adverse effects from toxins than others. ~Lack of nutrition: In order to work the existing detox enzymes in the body, optimum nutrition is required to activate them. A body will be more susceptible, if lacking in the necessary vitamins, minerals, amino acids, fatty acids, etc. ~Contaminated food: Constant consumption of nutrient-deficient foods, and foods contaminated with additives, food flavourings, preservatives, chemicals, hormones, etc., make a body more susceptible. ~Drugs: Most prescription drugs are synthetic (man-made), they are inorganic and cannot be assimilated by our body. ~Lack of exercise/Sedentary Life Style: Our skin is one of the biggest detoxification organs. Perspiration helps eliminate toxins through the skin. Without perspiration, our body has one less outlet for detoxifying. ~Nature of the toxins: External chemicals are man-made and are toxic to our body by nature.

Due to any or all of the factors above, we are exposed to a wide variety of toxins that stay in our body for a long time. When we do not take measures to detoxify, our bodies become overloaded. Toxins get stored in our body fats, in the brain, our cell membranes, in the liver, kidneys, lungs etc. When new toxins continue to enter the body, they can not get metabolized because the body is already overloaded. These backlogged toxins then cause damage to the detoxification organs and also attack the endocrine, nervous and immune systems. It is also during this time when new toxins enter our body, there are allergic reactions, skin breakouts, or chronic pains are felt.

There is Hope and Help: There is a long list of chronic diseases that are direct results of overloaded toxins in our bodies. Take this fact as a piece of GOOD NEWS because chronic diseases can be helped and will respond positively with proper detoxifying and nutrition.

Just Remember: there is no drug in this world that can heal a chronic disease, but instead only add on to your misery. Drugs (medication) can only suppress symptoms but they cannot heal you. Our body is made to self-heal. We need to give our body a chance to heal by itself by holding on to this formula:

HEALING = EMT + EMD + OPTIMUM NUTRITION

How it works?

Detoxification is a concept where a small electric current is passed through water, which causes molecules to ionize into +ve and -ve ions, which helps in removing the TOXINS from the human body. This helps to regulate body pH value, activate cells and elevate the metabolic and detoxifying effects of the various organs.

Benefits of EMT

Stabilizes and balances cells, Increases cell activity and energy, Slows down aging, Elevates immunity & revitalizes the body, Beautifies skin, Removes spots, Slims & improves physique. Elevation in immunity, Relief from various painful inflammatory ailments, Reduction in blood glucose level, Gradual reduction in blood pressure, Improves our skin condition, Improves our quality of sleep, Eliminates excess body fats, Relieves stress & tension, Boosts our energy levels, Increases natural ability of our body to fight diseases, Allows you to be youthful.

EMD (Electro MedicineDevice)

It is the first and latest Electro Medicine Device designed for electrostatic therapy which is very effective in treating viral diseases. EMD produces static electricity, which can eradicate the root cause of virus diseases such as HIV/AIDS, cancer, herpes, hepatitis and influenza etc. Static electricity exists naturally in our atmosphere and is essential to living things and beneficial to repel the world remedies, thus there are no best elements for the treatment.

Outstanding Benefits

Eradicates the cause of viral diseases, cancer, and other diseases of unknown cause, result is instantly observed, no side effects, safeguards and maintains better health, overcomes fatigue and stress.

EMD can be used for prevalent diseases such as*Arthritis,Asthma, Cancer, Chronic Fatigue syndrome, Diabetes, Fibromyalgia, Hepatitis, Herpes, HIV/AIDS, Hypertension, Influenza, Insomnia, Kidney, Diseases, Leprosy, Leukemia, Meningitis, Migraine, Muscular Dystrophy, Neuralgia, Parkinsonism, Psoriasis, Somnambulism, Tuberculosis etc.

How EMD Functions.

The EMD produces high-tension voltage of static electricity. It produces around 18,000 volts depending on climate or humidity and the insulation between the patient and the ground. However, the EMD static electricity does not induce any Joule heat to your body unlike any other existing medical machines and machines copied from EMD, no energy passes into the body. It just simply surrounds your body. Thus, there are no side effects at all.

Do you know that all of us are living under a certain electrified field of natural waves? When this kind of field is broken, then you get unhealthy. In today's modern world, there are now various kinds of pollutants, our planet is warming up, creating unhealthy conditions or incurable diseases, and nature is losing perfectly balanced electrical field of atmosphere.

Aside from it, the individual's personal offense against humanity is also losing a certain electrical field (for your information simply, it can be considered something like that of human aura) that protects you from paranormal wave (dark mater / energy) (origin of Virus and diseases of unknown cause), which exists in the fifth dimension.

Our body is surrounded by static electricity and the Paranormal Wave (Dark Matter/Energy) that creates diseases. EMD does static electrification (-ve electron) outside the body (it does not pass through norpenetrate the body),which discharge the dark matter / energy (+ve).

Itis just like lightning that strikes the ground, EMD produces negative static electricity, then strikes the surface of the body or the paranormal wave (darkmatter / energy) surrounding the body, and eradicating it to be free from disease producing elements.

The positively charged pollutants and paranormal wave (dark matter/energy) that create diseases will be discharged and eradicated from your body by the EMD power of static electricity. It is as simple as that. Only traditional healers may know the secret of its power of nature.
